Record United total is likely

A new record in pledges to the Tri-Cities Area United Way seems certain, it became apparent today. The previous high of $389,701 was attained two years ago.

Whether this year's campaign will reach or top the basic goal of $400,000 depends on the extent of solicitation and contributions occurring today and tomorrow, drive leaders said.

A tally to be made at 10 a.m. Wednesday will be announced at the sixth report meeting, a noon luncheon that day at the local YMCA, 20th Street and Edison Ave.

Those making reservations for the "Dutch treat" luncheon Wednesday are being asked to contact the United Way office by tomorrow; it is located at 2021 Edison Ave., and the telephone number is 877-6780. Pledges also may be taken or mailed to the United Way office.

At the fifth report session, held Oct. 31, pledges amounted to $377,754.

All pledges in the non-industrial divisions between Oct. 31 and Nov. 14 are to be matched at a 50 per cent rate by Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp.

In other words, each non-industrial dollar contributed since the previous meeting and until 10 a.m. Wednesday will do the work of $1.50.

Pledges to past United Way (Community Chest-United Fund-United Way) financial campaigns in the Quad-Cities have been as follows:

1943—$50,000.
1944—$56,000.
1945—$82,000.
1946—$58,000.

Hagnauer elected

NELSON HAGNAUER

Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City supervisor and chairman of the Madison County Board, was elected Thursday night as vice-chairman of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

St. Louis County Supervisor Lawrence K. Ross, who had been vice-chairman, was elected as chairman, replacing the late Francis J. Foley, St. Clair County Board chairman.

Ralph Smith, presiding judge of Franklin County, Mo., was elected as Gateway treasurer, succeeding Douglas Beichert of St. Charles County, Mo.

The offices have two-year terms.

The Gateway Council coordinates federally-funded projects in the Illinois-Missouri metropolitan region of St. Louis. It also is in the process of seeking coordinating and governing power over many non-federal policies and actions.

The election took place at the annual Gateway dinner, held at Augustine's Restaurant, Belleville.

A regional political organization capable of coordinated planning and responsible for having plans put into operation was called for at the Gateway meeting by Harry E. Morley Jr., executive vice president of the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association.

He pledged ROGA support for efforts to create a St. Louis Area Council of Governments.

Such a council is needed, he said, "to provide Greater St. Louis's political leadership with the institutional tools necessary for dealing with area-wide problems and opportunities."

Morley, who was assistant

PUBLIC MEETING ON COLLEGE needs of the Quad-Cities and Collinsville attracted nearly 100 persons Thursday afternoon to the Venice Recreation Center. Part of the audience is pictured. Public for college

A gathering of nearly 100 Quad-Cityans made it clear to Illinois Community College Board representatives at a public meeting Thursday afternoon that there is strong preference for a new junior college district rather than annexation. A voice vote appeared to be unanimous. The group also voiced overwhelming sentiment for annexation to the Belleville Area College rather than Lewis and Clark Community College, if the proposed new Southwestern district is rejected by the state without allowing a special election to be held. Dr. Fred L. Wellman ICCB executive secretary, was among the group answering questions at the public meeting in the Venice Recreation Center.

Earlier Thursday, the visitors met with mayors, school officials and study groups at a luncheon at the Army installation, hosted by the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

Those here from Springfield listened to the views of dozens of local residents but did not appear to yield in their belief that

Doctors oppose abortions here

The Executive Committee of the Medical Staff of St. Elizabeth Hospital met Saturday morning and went on record as being "unanimously opposed to abortions on demand being performed in Granite City, whether performed in St. Elizabeth Hospital or in a separate facility."

The action taken by the Executive Committee Saturday was signed by Dr. Overt Lay, president; Dr. Harold Toussaint, vice-president; Dr. Felicia Koch, secretary-treasurer; and Dr. Lawrence Aronberg, Dr. Otto Bauer, Dr. Herman Blumenthal, and Dr. Bernard Lottman and Dr.

George Wilkins, members. A proposed outpatient surgical center currently being constructed in a building on Iowa Street is to be equipped for a variety of surgery, including "abortions when determined necessary by a physician," it was announced last week.

The governing board of St. Elizabeth Hospital Nov. 7 reaffirmed its earlier stand opposing abortions. An Illinois law allows, on the basis of conscience, non-participation in providing such surgery.

The U. S. Supreme Court has voted in favor of permitting abortions under specified circumstances and timing.

Lower bus fares start today

Reduced fares on all Bi-State Transit System buses became effective today. Four new bus lines were inaugurated at the same time.

The basic cash fare for local service will be reduced from 45 cents to 25 cents and Express and Rapid cash fares from 30 cents to 20 cents.

The rates for children under 12 will be 15 cents instead of 20 cents on local service and 20 cents instead of 25 cents on Express and Rapid buses. The present 10 cent transfer charge and 10 cent zone charge will remain in effect.

Included in the general fare reduction is a special senior citizens off-peak rate of 15 cents between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. and after 6 p.m., Mondays through Fridays, and all hours on Saturdays, Sundays and specified holidays.

To qualify for this special fare, senior citizens must be 65 or older and have proper identification. Initially, Medicare cards will be used; later special ID cards will be issued. The 15 cent fare will be subject to applicable zone and transfer charges.

A new weekly pass selling for $3.50 will also be available. This pass will have the same riding privileges as the present $5.75 Silver Pass. It will be good for unlimited riding during the week of issue in the Missouri-Illinois Central Fare Area on all local buses, as well as rush-hour express, shopper express, rapid, Municipal Opera and Park-ride service without additional payment, but will be subject to applicable zone charges in suburban areas.

It also will be good for rides on Red Bird (baseball and Big Red (football) express buses upon payment of 25 cents.

When the new $3.50 weekly pass goes into effect this week it will be an all-purpose pass — the only one sold by Bi-State Transit through present pass sales outlets.

Because of the major reductions in cash fares and the special senior citizens' 15 cent rate, it was felt that there would be little demand for more than a single general-use weekly pass. Hence the present $7 gold weekly pass and the $3 passes will no longer be sold.

Rotarians urge new junior college district for area

Dr. George T. Wilkins Sr. and Madison Mayor Mike Saay last week urged fellow Rotarians to attend a hearing held Thursday on junior college services.

At the weekly luncheon of the Madison club, which was held in the Madison Fire Hall due to heating problems at the Madison Recreation Center, Dr. Wilkins said that if this area cannot form its own district, he feels it should try to annex to the Belleville district.

Rotarian John Sedlack spoke to the club on the role of funeral directors. He noted that the funeral director and the minister are primary "care givers" at the time of death. Their primary role, he said, is to give counseling and assistance to the survivors. Al Hudzik, comptroller for the City of Madison, was a guest.

Community effort Kiwanis topic

How does Highland keep its industry and continue to attract new industry?

The question was discussed at the Breakfast Kiwanis meeting at Charlie's Restaurant by Jerry Howard of Basler Electric Co., Highland. "I think the main reason Highland has accomplished this is because of its close-knit ethnic group and because everyone in the city is working and doing everything they can to make Highland a good place in which to live," Howard said. Basler Electric has plants in Huntington, Tenn., Corning, Ark., and Charleston, Mo., in addition to Highland. The firm employs 850 persons.

In addition to being active in the Explorer Scout program, the electric company has a program to interest students in electrical vocational areas. Recently students from vocational departments of both Granite City high schools toured the Highland plant, Howard related.

Kiwanis President E. Ray Grisham announced that in keeping with the Thanksgiving holiday, Rev. David Maxton, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church of Granite City, will be the guest speaker this week.

Purpose of the contest, sponsored by the mathematics area at St. Mary's, is to encourage high school girls in their study of mathematics and to reward their efforts by public recognition through competition.

Two girls from each of the four years—freshman, sophomore, junior and senior—are invited to enter from each school. Certificates will be given to the six highest individuals in each year and to the top three teams.

Registration will begin at 10:30 a.m. at Kennedy, with testing at 11 a.m. Luncheon at 12:15 will be followed by an awards program at 1:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Land use control near rivers occupying Army Engineer Corps

Escalating its battle against the ravages of floods, the Army Corps of Engineers is emphasizing flood damage reduction through control of development in flood-prone areas, a spokesman for the St. Louis Engineer District told the Press-Record last week.

This relatively new Corps activity will, when fully effective, reduce significantly the need for new levees and other flood control structures in the years ahead, he predicted.

The objective is to stop the "encroachments of flood plains," so that when a river overflows its banks there will be little or no damage.

Until recently, the Corps' emphasis has been on preventing floods through use of tributary and main stem dams, and lessening flood damage by construction of levees and floodwalls.

Since 1936 the Corps' work has, by necessity, been directed toward the protection of cities and existing facilities built earlier in flood-prone valleys, the spokesman related.

The new emphasis on "sound land development planning" should cut down flood damage and disruption considerably by reducing the number of facilities in flood plains, he asserted.

The Corps, since 1960, has been providing a free service to communities asking for aid in flood plain management.

The Corps' flood plain management program—control over land use—states that both land use and flood control are needed.

The federal role is advisory. The Corps concentrates on acquisition, correlation and presentation of flood plain data.

The program provides a full range of flood plain-related technical and planning services to requesting federal as well as non-federal agencies, it was explained.

The spokesman continued, "A disproportionate share of the nation's population—on six percent of the nation's territory—is concentrated in flood-prone areas, the flood plains along river and coastal regions.

"Despite achievements in flood control during the past three decades, annual flood damage currently exceeds $1 billion and is still rising, largely because of mushrooming residential and industrial development on vulnerable flood plains.

"The current expenditure ceiling on the Corps' services is $11 million annually, Corps-wide.

"Between 1960 and 1967, the St. Louis Engineer District published flood plain information brochures that pointed out general flood-prone areas. These early brochures did not include specific flooding elevations.

"Since 1967, the St. Louis District has completed nine flood plain information reports which contain detailed information with historic and future potential flood information.

"The District also has issued eight special flood hazard studies which were requested and used by communities to guide development in flood-prone areas.

"The Corps' St. Louis District Flood Plain Management Studies Branch has eleven more information studies under way.

"Nationally, the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers has reported on nearly 2,000 locations. It has directly assisted 600 local areas in adopting flood plain regulations and guided 846 others in using interim land control.

"To a large extent, the Corps' program has been geared to the increasing demand for flood hazard information on individual sites proposed for building or sale, or for short releases of streams under increasing development pressure.

One example of how flood plain studies have resulted in community action is School District No. 6 in Arnold, Mo., a community hard hit by the spring 1973 flood. One of the future school sites was in a flood hazard area.

"Flood plain studies indicated that the school, if built, could be damaged by future flooding. The school board used the special flood hazard information studies and selected a location on higher ground for the school building.

"The three major functions of the flood plain program are information report preparation and distribution, provision of technical service and guidance, and development and distribution of guides and pamphlets.

"When local and state officials request, the Corps prepares flood plain information reports and provides individual case maps, profiles, charts, tabulations, graphs and narrative descriptions.

"This information shows the extent and depth, duration and frequency of floods; water velocities; rates of rise and fall of floods; and other pertinent hydrologic and hydraulic information.

"Data on past floods is provided, as well as estimates of floods to be expected.

"The Corps also provides technical service and guidance to states and local governments to assist them in drafting appropriate flood plain regulations, in local decision-making concerning land use, and in connection with flood-proofing both new and existing buildings.

"Guides and pamphlets and the needed supporting studies focus on flood problems and the needs of both Corps field offices and the public.

"The reports and services are provided through the 47 Corps division and district offices.

"State and local regulation of the future use of flood plains is an important means by which flood hazards can be reduced.

Under such regulations, portions of the flood plain where high velocities occur may be kept relatively free from obstructions.

"Uses compatible with this approach would be private and public outdoor recreation, wildlife conservation, and other open space environmental improvement.

"In cases of less hazardous portions of the flood plain, regulations may require that buildings be so designed that the damage potential is reduced to an acceptable level.

"Often the best solution may be to provide necessary flood control works and permit whatever development is compatible with the residual flood hazard," it was concluded.

Nine plead guilty in area cases

Nine guilty pleas were entered in Circuit Court at Edwardsville last week, two men were arraigned and one woman was sentenced to two years periodic imprisonment.

Sentenced to serve periodic imprisonment was Barbara Milton, 20, of the 2400 block of Madison Ave., who was found guilty of armed robbery by a jury. She was among four persons arrested Nov. 27, 1972, after they allegedly forced a married couple, Alan and Darla Hampton, 2560 Iowa St., from their home for a ride around town.

Tommy Johnson of West Virginia pleaded guilty to one count of taking indecent liberties and was sentenced to two years probation. He is to serve the probation in West Virginia.

Eight men pleaded guilty to felonies and are to be sentenced Dec. 5.

Thomas Jones, Centerville, pleaded guilty to voluntary manslaughter in the fatal shooting of Maurice Jones, manager of the Wagon Wheel Tavern, Eagle Park Acres, on June 2.

Claude Shelby of Brooklyn pleaded guilty to battery stemming from the beating of Arie Walker of Madison on March 11.

Michael Consiglio, 25, of the 1700 block of Kennedy Drive, Madison, pleaded guilty to the theft of an auto here Sept. 2, 1972.

Joint guilty pleas were entered by Robert Austin of the 2000 block of State St., and Larry Turner of the 2100 block of Washington Ave., on burglary charges. They entered the home of Tom O'Quinn, 3307 Kirkpatrick Homes, Aug. 2.

Wayne Hoerner pleaded guilty to a burglary charge. He and another man entered St. Paul's United Church of Christ May 21.

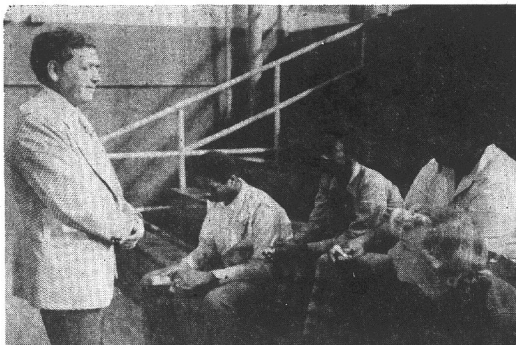

A guilty plea was entered on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor by Donald Gallia who listed an address on Rock Road.

Michael Slayton of Madison pleaded guilty to cruelty to a child. He struck 2-year-old Richard Lee Harley with a wooden paddle June 7, 1973, in Madison. Harley, the son of Mrs. Connie Warmack of Madison, later died of pneumonia.

Archie Pulley of Granite City who was arrested at Kirkpatrick Homes by local police on a federal warrant in August, was arraigned last week on a charge of unlawful use of a weapon. Bond was set at $5,000.

Also arraigned was Thomas Henry Culp on a charge of attempted burglary. He allegedly struck the door of the Save-Mor Market, 1508 Third St., Madison, with a two-foot long pipe Aug. 26. Bond was set at $5,000.

Kathryn A. Kwiatkowski weds Ted Allen Frazier

The wedding of Miss Kathryn Ann Kwiatkowski, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kwiatkowski, 2413 Jerden Ave., and Ted Allen Frazier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Frazier, 2235 Lincoln Ave., was solemnized in an evening ceremony Friday at Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Bouquets of white gladioli and pom poms adorned the altar and hurricane lamps festooned with satin ribbons marked the white carpeted aisle. The double ring service was performed by the Rev. Daniel Flynn.

For her wedding, the bride chose a traditional gown of pure white Chantilly lace. Bishop sleeves were set into a fitted bodice made with a sabbina neckline etched with sequins and pearls.

The bouffant skirt, fashioned of tiers of scalloped lace embellished with beading, cascaded into a cathedral length train.

She wore a Juliet cap of openwork lace accented with tiny pearls to hold in place an elbow length illusion veil. Her bridal bouquet was in colonial style consisting of white roses encircled with a garland of red Sweetheart roses.

Preceding the ceremony nuptial music was played, including "We've Only Just Begun," "Ave Maria," "Mother Beloved" and "The Wedding Song," Mrs. Jane Kozielek, organist, accompanied the soloist, Duke Dauer.

The bride's attendants were attired in floor length dresses of ruby red chiffon velvet made with sleeveless bodices, featuring a mandarin neckline. Their frocks were complemented with long sleeve bolero jackets edged with self fabric ruffling.

Each held a colonial bouquet of pink pom poms and red roses.

Serving as maid of honor was Miss Elizabeth Jeff. The bridesmaids were Miss Sharon Justice, Miss Carol Smith and Mrs. Vincent Kwiatkowski, a sister-in-law of the bride.

Christopher DeRuntz, the bride's cousin, was ringbearer, escorting Lori Kwiatkowski, a niece of the bride, flower girl. She wore a frock similar in style to the adult attendants' dresses without the jacket, and she carried a basket of pink and white flower petals.

Jim Johnson attended the groom as best man. Thomas Bull, Harley Barton, Michael Frazier, the groom's brother, and Vincent Paul Frazier, John Kwiatkowski, all brothers of the bride, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Mrs. Kwiatkowski, mother of the bride, selected a lime green macaroon knit floor length gown. The skirt was slightly gathered and the lace bodice had a jeweled neckline and long sleeves, topped with a three-quarter length lace jacket.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Frazier, appeared in a mint green dress designed with a lace bodice, long fitted sleeves and an accordion pleated floor length skirt of mint green polyester.

Both mothers wore corsages of white Sweetheart roses. Guests were received by the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Frazier at a reception at Polish Hall in Madison.

Both young people are

Title-defending soccer Warriors place third

By KEN THOMPSON
Press-Record Staff Writer
So near, and yet so far. Depressed, and then delighted, GCHS South's defending state soccer champions competed Friday and Saturday in the Illinois High School Association state tournament at Normal, earning third place.

The Warriors, who finished with a 19-21 season record, dropped a 6-4 heartbreaker Friday night in the semifinal competition against Morton East at Illinois State University's Hancock Stadium.

They returned to the battleground the next day to hand Lake Forest a 1-0 defeat to bring the third-place trophy home to Granite City.

Chicago Harrison won the state title, 1-0 over Morton East, after stopping Lake Forest 1-0 Friday.

OPEN ENININGS

In one of the most thrilling games ever witnessed in varsity soccer, the Warriors dominated the first-round game against the Mustangs of Morton East, with well-executed passes and a tight defense.

Both teams failed to score in the first half and South led in shots on goal with seven to the Mustangs' five. They also led in corner kicks with two compared to the enemies one. If the corner kick advantage had prevailed, it would have determined the winner in the event the game was scoreless or tied at the end of regulation play.

A scramble for the ball in front of Granite City's goal halfway through the third quarter pulled goalie Keith Kibort out to stop the play, allowing East's Miro Rys to head the ball past him, giving the Mustangs a 1-0 lead.

East's goalie Bob Pospisil made spectacular saves on close-in shots, but early in the fourth period Keith Gehling tied the game by gently guiding the ball into the right corner of the net after Pospisil was drawn away in a scramble for the ball.

Kibort stopped a straight-in shot off the foot of Rys as the buzzer sounded, signifying the end of regulation game time with the score tied at 1-1 and corner kicks tied at 4-4, forcing the game into a five-minute overtime period.

Neither team got in a corner kick but the Warriors almost pulled the game out of the bag when Gehling slammed one toward Pospisil's stomach from 25 yards out. The force of the ball knocked the defending goalie down. The ball then bounced back onto the field, forcing yet another overtime period, which also ended with the score and corner kicks in a deadlock.

Tension filled the cold night air as the officials called for five players from each team to alternate in shots on goal from just outside the penalty area, with the team making the most goals emerging the victor.

"Oh's and ah's" from the fans broke the otherwise dead silence as each player took his turn, knowing his kick would mean the difference of winning or losing the right to compete for the state title the next day. Each goalie stood in front of the net, a lonely figure, with the same thought passing through his mind.

In alternating turns, first South and then Morton East, the first four players powered the ball into the net to tie the kicks at 2-2.

The Mustangs broke the tie after South's third shot on goal deflected off the enemy goalie's shoestring, but the battle again fell into a deadlock on the next Granite City kick.

East once again provided the tie-breaking kick and added its last shot as a matter of formality after the Warriors' final attempt deflected off the fingertips of Pospisil.

Utter disbelief shadowed the faces of the Granite City players and, for some, team fell at the impact of realizing they would not have the chance to defend their crown against Harrison High.

"It's hard to bounce back full of spirit and win after losing in the semi-finals, but we did it. Saturday's victory was a great school effort."

"The fans and cheerleaders who were there gave the boys the additional inspiration that was needed."

Those words were spoken by Assistant Coach Mel Bunting after the Warriors clashed at noon Saturday with Lake Forest and claimed third place with a 1-0 victory over the Scouts.

The game provided a happy season ending for South's Dave Sheridan, who had sat on the bench most of the year with a broken foot. He slammed home the only goal scored, five minutes into the third quarter. The Warriors outshot Lake Forest on the artificial turf at Normal, with 23 shots on goal to the Scouts' 12, forcing Goale Scott Blackman to make 13 saves as compared to six for the Warriors.

Sheridan had four attempts at scoring before he struck paydirt. Mike Martinez had power-kicked the ball against Blackman's legs and it bounced back to the mouth of the goal.

Three players got their feet on it; Sheridan came up with a solid boot to send the ball sailing into the net.

During the halftime break in the Harrison-Morton East title game, it was announced that Don Goldschmidt and Keith Gehling were among the players selected for the Illinois High School Soccer Coaches Association all-state team for their overall performance.

Records fell and new ones were set in the second annual state meet.

It was the first time a tournament game was decided on free kicks and they helped lead to a new GCHS South school record of most goals scored by an individual player. Don Goldschmidt claimed the record with 28 in one season after the free kick period.

Lake Forest Goale Scott Blackman broke the record of most saves in a tournament game with the 13 against the Warriors. He made a mark of nine Friday in the semifinals against Harrison.

The Harrison High Hornets set a record of their own Saturday by defeating Morton East 1-0 on a free penalty shot in the fourth period, to capture the 1973 state soccer title, giving the school its first athletic championship of any kind in 30 years. They remain undefeated with a 17-0-2 season record.

For ten Granite City Warriors, it was their varsity finale. Tom Clark, Mike Fry, Ted Gegus, Keith Gehling, Don Goldschmidt, Joe Grace, Gary Hency, Mike Martinez, Mark Voegel and Ruben Ybarra all will graduate before the 1974 season begins.

Amid the singing and laughing on the trip home, all voiced agreement: "Although retaining the team's crown would have been nice, being third in the state is still something to be proud of."

They added, "The privilege of being there is a reward in itself." This view was shared by the youngsters who will carry the team's traditions into battle next year.

For first year Coaches Gene Baker and Mel Bunting, "The boys gave their best all year. We couldn't ask for anything more."

As the Warriors walked into the gymnasium at GCHS South Saturday night, the band played the school song and the smiling glowing faces of the waiting crowd radiated a message to the team.

"We're proud of you Warriors; with us, you'll always be Number One."

A bus breakdown prevented the team from returning on schedule.

And when East St. Louis and Alton played to a scoreless tie Saturday afternoon, South's remaining mathematical chances of a Southwestern Conference championship evaporated.

Unbeaten Belleville West, defeating neighboring Althoff 21-8 in a non-league game Friday night, is 5-0 in conference. East St. Louis 4-0 plus a tie, and South is 4-2.

Because the West Maroons and East Side Flyers have yet to meet and neither yet has a winning season proved to be an impossible dream for the first-year-ever Steeler football team of Granite City High School North on Friday.

But the quest was a noble one and almost proved successful. After four defeats, the Steelers put together four wins in a row. And there was no disgrace in the season finale, a 26-19 loss at Mattoon, that almost had the team's season end in the fourth quarter.

Mattoon has a 7-2 record following the victory Friday night.

After a scoreless initial period, the host Green Wave built a 14-0 halftime lead.

A four-yard run by Tim Smith and a 60-yard gallop by Ed Lawrence provided the initial touchdowns for Mattoon. Smith kicked the two extra points.

Both Halfback Lawrence and Fullback Rick Moss went over the 100-yard mark for ground gained on running plays this season.

The Steelers were aware of the two athletes' prowess but the "terrible twosome" proved difficult to contain.

Moss scored two third-quarter touchdowns on sprints of 19 and 63 yards as the Green Wave rolled to a 26-0 lead.

The tide finally began to turn in the fourth period. The first North High scoring came on an eight-yard TD pass from Quarterback Gene Loga to Robert Wilson.

WARRIOR KEITH GEHLING traps the ball at his feet after receiving a pass from Mike Martinez (at right) with an IHSA official watching from the sideline, and Joe Grace (4) ready to assist. "HEY, HEY FIGHTING WARRIORS! We're with you all the way," was the cry of this group on GCHS South fans during Saturday's 1973 IHSA soccer third place game at Normal, Ill. (Press-Record Photo)

South loses lead and game at Jefferson City

The football fortunes of Granite City High School South suffered a triple blow during the weekend.

The Warriors lost an early lead and were defeated 14-7 at Jefferson City, Mo., Friday night.

A bus breakdown prevented the team from returning on schedule.

And when East St. Louis and Alton played to a scoreless tie Saturday afternoon, South's remaining mathematical chances of a Southwestern Conference championship evaporated.

Unbeaten Belleville West, defeating neighboring Althoff 21-8 in a non-league game Friday night, is 5-0 in conference. East St. Louis 4-0 plus a tie, and South is 4-2.

league loss, at least one of them will finish with one defeat or less; this makes it impossible for the Warriors to gain a tie.

Nov. 5-4 for the season. South almost matched the offensive output of Jefferson City, which improved its season record to 9-1.

The Jays last year edged the Warriors 9-6.

The "Jays" widely-acclaimed ground attack was held to 128 yards while the Warriors were garnering 125. Jefferson City had a 36-29 advantage in passing yardage, each team completing three aeriels.

A first-quarter drive clicked for the Warriors. Quarterback Dave Dombek carrying the ball across from the one-yard-line. Bryan Bunn's placement kick gave South a 7-0 lead.

The tying Jefferson City touchdown march occurred in the second period, culminating in a one-yard plunge by Delbert Thomas. Leland Fletcher's extra-point kick brought a 7-7 deadlock which remained until halftime.

The deciding score in the third period was tallied on a three-yard run by Dave Lynch of the Jays. Another Fletcher kick made it 14-7.

Jefferson City chalked up 11 first downs to seven for South. Both teams avoided any loss of possession due to a fumble, but the Jays snared two Warrior passes.

The game set the stage for South's final contest of the 1973 season, a visit to Belleville West Friday evening, Nov. 16.

Other varsity scores Friday night included Cahokia 29-14 over Edwardsville in the Southwestern Conference. Alton Marquette 46-14 over Bethalto, and Roxana 28-14 over Wood River.

Grid scores Saturday included Assumption 41-8 over Christian Brothers College, and Mascoutah 34-6 over Highland.

Dinner to honor GC Park athletes

A year of athletic efforts by area youths will be rewarded Monday, Nov. 19, during the Granite City Park District's 14th annual sports award banquet which will begin at 6:15 p.m. in the cafeteria of Granite City High School South.

The event, with Henry Gabriel, Park Board president, serving as master-of-ceremonies, will honor participants in park district sports programs.

Service and appreciation awards will be presented to an individual or individuals who have contributed time in supporting youth programs in the district.

Four national sports personalities, headed by Pittsburgh Pirate baseball player Dal Maxwell, former Granite City and former Cardinal shortstop, will be on hand to greet the youngsters and serve as guest speakers.

Joining Maxwell will be former Cardinal pitchers Don Shaw and Rick Wise.

Representing the gridiron side of the program will be football Cardinal Guard Tom Banks.

Shaw, now with the Detroit Tigers, was with the Cardinals in 1971 and 1972 before being sold to the Oakland Athletics.

He joined the Tigers this year and had a major league record of 13-12.

Wise was traded Oct. 26 for Reggie Smith and Ken Tatum. He posted a 16-12 record with the St. Louis team in 1973.

Bannon, a native of Birmingham, Ala., was an eighth-round draft choice of the Big Red in 1970 and has been a regular guard this season.

He was a two-year all-Southeast Conference center at Auburn College and capped his senior season with a trip to the Bluebonnet Bowl.

More than 197 awards will be presented in six categories: tennis, football, baseball, women's softball, men's softball and basketball.

Tickets are being allocated within the district at $2.60 per person. About 760 persons are expected to attend.

Penalty, Borgia team thwart Trojans, 22-0

With only one game left to play this year, the Trojans of Madison High are now 0-4 after dropping Saturday's game to Borgia (Washington, Mo.) by a score of 22-0 in Madison.

Borgia scored twice in the first period and again in the final quarter to rack up 218 yards in rushing and 61 yards passing. Madison's Emmett Timmons connected on four out of 11 passes for 52 yards and the Trojans chalked up 56 yards rushing.

Madison's only serious scoring attempt was an 81-yard TD run from scrimmage, it was called back due to an offensive clipping penalty.

The Trojans will host the Panthers of O'Fallon Saturday at Madison to close out their season.

Against Borgia, Madison was stunned by a 15-point enemy first quarter.

Steve Dennis tallied the first TD on a seven-yard run and Jeff Connor connected with a placement kick for a 7-0 score.

After a four-yard run by Dennis into the end zone, a kick failed and it was 13-0. A Trojan runner then was tackled in the end zone for a two-point safety.

No further scoring occurred until the fourth period, when John Swoboda threw a 19-yard touchdown pass to Pete Tolben. Connor's kick provided the 22nd point.

North kickers still alive and kicking

The soccer Steelers of GCHS North, despite a 0-3 defeat by St. John Friday, inched closer to the finals of the St. Louis Metropolitan Soccer League Tournament at O'Fallon, Mo., with a 1-0 victory over host St. Dominic yesterday afternoon.

Sophomore Grey Ely made the winning goal unassisted in a game which saw the Steelers starters knocked out of competition with injuries. Dave Wolf received broken toes and bruised ribs and Bill Schlatweller, who scored in the first game of the tournament to defeat Assumption, received an ankle injury. Kevin Gavlick was sidelined Wednesday with a severely bruised shin bone.

The only undefeated team in the double elimination match is St. John which will meet North again tonight at 7:30 p.m. The Steelers must get by the St. Louis team today to qualify for the championship game tomorrow. Ironically, if the Steelers win today they will again meet St. John for the title.

Steelers shut out Kahoks

The freshman Steelers of GCHS North shut out the Kahoks at Collinsville Thursday by a score of 3-0, upping their season record to 6-1 with only one game left to play.

North scored three TD's in the first quarter, two by Jim Simpson and one by Mickey Smith, then commanded a half-time lead of 28-0 on Smith TD in the second period.

Leo Pelek wrapped up the victory with a two-yard plunge into the enemies end zone in the third period of play.

Quarterback Greg Corey made all five extra-point kicks good to add to the win.

As the season ended, the 10-1-1 Cougars recorded goals by Tom Gala (two), John Stremlau, Bob Kessen and Pat Horn, the latter on a pass from Granite City sophomore Jim Forrester.

NO CHANCE OF DATE CHANGE—KENNEDY
Confirming last Monday's Press-Record article that he will not seek re-election, State Rep. Leland Kennedy said Friday he hinged the decision on whether the campaign was shortened by changing the March 1974 primary to August, three months before the general election.

There is no chance now that the legislature will change the date," Kennedy commented. He said he will not take sides in the Democratic primary to name his successor.

State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon of Belleville announced today he will seek re-election as state treasurer in 1974.

Sharp curtailment of use of private autos—enforced by gasoline rationing—if necessary—is being described as the only sure cure for the energy shortage. Airlines, railroads, truck firms and bus lines say they are seeking ways of conserving fuel, but stress that they must continue in operation unless movement of raw materials and products is to be hampered, seriously affecting the economy.

Firms, utilities and government agencies have initiated programs to curb use of electricity, fuel and other forms of energy. Many motorists in this region are driving at reduced speeds, and car pools are receiving increased emphasis.

Cong. Price's vote on Nixon would be 'free of personal, political' aspects

In response to a large volume of mail urging that he support impeachment of President Nixon, Congressman Melvin Price will submit a report to the House Judiciary Committee on the views expressed by his constituents.

"The Judiciary Committee has begun inquiry into the question of impeachment proceedings," the local congressman said Saturday. "The chairman of the committee has stated that the matter will be handled fairly, thoroughly and responsibly."

In commenting on impeachment, Rep. Price said he realizes that it is a "drastic step."

"That Congress carry out its Constitutional function in responsible and orderly fashion. Consequently, I favor a full, impartial investigation into the matter."

"In conjunction with its inquiry, I feel the committee should be made aware of my constituents' views on the matter."

Price gave assurance that if the Judiciary Committee reports Articles of Impeachment, his vote on whether or not to send them to the Senate for trial of President Nixon would be "completely free of personal or political consideration."

Rep. Price participated in the Nov. 7 White House briefing prior to President Nixon's enemy message that night.

As chairman of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee on several members of Congress of both parties invited to attend the meeting.

The White House took special note of a portion of a Joint Atomic Energy Committee report prepared at the request of Rep. Price.

The report pointed out that the average American uses as much energy in just a few days as half the world's people on an individual basis consume in one year.

Because the removal activity may prove long and costly, ways of financing it are being studied, Maeras said.

Hagnauer

secretary for administration in the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development before assuming his post with the RCGA earlier this year, said the St. Louis area has become a mecca for metropolitan areas as an example of a metropolis crippled by fragmentation.

"In terms of its ability to plan regionally and implement its plans, St. Louis is nothing less than a joke," he said.

"Its image in our national corridors of power is that of a region that asks for money to plan and plan and then instead of doing anything asks for more money in place ways of implementing its plans."

Until this situation is remedied, metropolitan St. Louis will find it increasingly difficult to get maximum federal assistance for dealing with public needs, Morley said.

He emphasized his belief that "SLACOG" would not be a superagency stripping the area's counties and municipalities of their prerogatives and autonomy.

He said it would provide a focus for local officials to devise ways of mounting regional approaches to problems that cannot be handled piecemeal.

"Regional approaches are necessary to foster orderly economic development and provide a rate of economic growth that will support public needs without disrupting the quality of life in the area," Morley said.

"This kind of development is possible only where the capability exists to bring intelligence and a sense of order to bear upon wide-reaching and painfully complex regional needs."

"Such a capability, in turn, depends ultimately on the existence not only of determined leaders but also of effective regional institutions for to lead. The development of such institutions is quite clearly one of the major challenges of our time."

Morley told the Gateway gathering that the metropolitan area appears to be entering an era of significant growth potential.

He said growth is needed by all residents because it is the only realistic source of revenues needed to preserve and enhance the quality of life here.

"We asserted that growth must be sustained and ordered and controlled—and that this can be achieved only through the use of regional business and political organizations with broad scope and adequate financing."

The Illinois State Scholarship Commission this week names 15,435 students as State Scholars in the 1974 competitive State Scholar Program. High school academic records and examination scores are used in the selection. The new list includes 82 Quad-Cityans.

The State Scholars represent nearly every high school in the state and were chosen from 47,852 students who entered the competition by taking either the April 28 or July 21, 1973, examination administered by the American College Testing Program (ACT).

We have had several customers come in with gifts for United Way. If you haven't made your gift, now is the time. If we get your gift before Wednesday's meeting, Granite City Steel will match every dollar you give with another 50c. In other words it only costs you $1.00 to give $1.50. The home of Mrs. Lily Morgan, 2406 Adams St., was looted before 5:50 p.m. Wednesday of $10,000 worth of government bonds, 46 shares of Union Electric Co. stock, a wedding ring, three diamond rings and deers and personal papers. There were no signs of forced entry.

HOUSE BURGLARY

The home of James H. Haxton, 529 Chouteau Ave., Mitchell, was burglarized last week. A color television set, tape player and AM-FM radio, valued at a total of about $700, were stolen. Entry was gained by breaking a lock on the front door.

In legislative bid

Ted Bennett, 47, Democrat of Edwardsville, announced last week that he will be a candidate for the Illinois House of Representatives in the 1974 elections.

Bennett is a native of Madison County who formerly resided in Alton and now lives in Edwardsville. He and his wife Beverly have four children.

After serving in the U.S. Air Force, Bennett was a businessman in Alton. He now is a sales-coordinator for Laclede Steel Co. Bennett is a former member of the Madison County Board, having served on its Nursing Home committee when the old T.B. Sanitorium was remodeled into the present county home.

He also served on several other county committees and has been an active member and officer of various civic and charitable organizations throughout the county, including the office of president of the Edwardsville Democratic Club. He is an Edwardsville precinct committeeman.

Bennett said he feels that the southern half of Illinois still is being forced to take a "back seat" to the northern half of the state and that much needs to be done in our area regarding public health facilities and recreation. He also is concerned that the state government still is overlooking legislation beneficial to the average citizen.

The 56th legislative district, in which Bennett is a candidate, covers most of Madison County and all of Canteen Township in St. Clair County.

STRIP, BURN AUTO

The auto of Clarence Moore, 2909 Sunset Drive, stolen from Granite City Thursday, was found by Brooklyn police in which Bennett is a candidate, covers most of Madison County and all of Canteen Township in St. Clair County.

School roofing contracts let

A new van for Granite City High School-North athletic teams was purchased by the Board of Education last week from Granite City Dodge for $5,065.

Although not the lowest bid, the local bid was accepted for nearness of service and because it met specifications better than the other bids.

The school awarded a $36,500 contract to Lakeside Roofing Co. to repair roofing at five schools damaged by recent storms. The schools are Prather Junior High, GCHS-South, Logan School, the Pre-School Center at 2425 Logan St., and Washington School.

A special purchase of skylights for Prather was approved, calling for 19 new skylights to be purchased from Wasco Products at $63 each, a total of $1,197.

Four bidders received contracts to supply lumber and building supplies for the district. The contracts were awarded to Illinois Lumber Co. at $2,019, Kutter Brothers Lumber Co. at $214, L.J. Ross Co. at $189 and Hiss Behan Co. at $36.

Bids for canned goods were accepted from Allen Foods, Inc., $20,819; General Grocery Co. at $189 and Hill Behan Co. and Edray Foods, Inc., $1,980.

Athletic purchases included a $624 award to School Health Supply Co. for a whirlpool unit, and special expenditures were authorized for All American and to Air Pad and Braze Co. to recondition all of the district's football equipment, with the cost not to exceed $2,000 for either company.

The board also approved a special purchase of an alert monitor radio receiver from Wise Communications, Inc., for $165. The radio is to replace one stolen from Mitchell School.

A vote was taken on continuing the past practice of sending Christmas cards to all district employees and the board voted to end the practice and send, instead, mimeographed Yule messages to all employees.

A detachable desk arm wheelchair was ordered at a cost of $385 from J.A. Preston Corp., the only available supplier of the specialized equipment. It is to be used by the Special Education District.

Tarlas Meat Co. was chosen to supply French fries to the district at $5.40 per case and shoe string potatoes at $5.20 per case.

Contracts for plastic supplies were awarded to Cadillac Plastic Co. at $743, and Cape Plastic Illinois, Inc., at $748, a total of $1,491. Cadillac was suggested as the future supplier of all plastic for the district.

A $684 contract was awarded to Standard Duplicators, Inc., St. Louis, to supply 720 gallons of duplicator fluid. Bilmac Press was chosen to print 60 sets of auditorium tickets at $602.

McGregor Magazine Agency was low bidder for magazines at $4,362 and Bro-Dart Co. was picked from nine bidders to supply library books this year.

Houser Automotive of Granite City is to supply industrial arts equipment, including stock equipment, auto batteries and timing lights at a total price of $389.

A $326 contract was awarded to Binks Manufacturing Co. for an air compressor to be used in industrial arts classes.

The board was told that $238 was spent for the emergency purchase of two drain valves and two drain cores for installation at Logan and Marshall Schools to keep the dishwashers in operation.

The board approved a change order to omit painting of the metal wall panels above the masonry walls of the new GCHS South stage area at a savings of $420.

Payment of bills from seven different funds totalling $190,753.25 received board approval during the meeting. Those ordered paid are: educational fund, $60,279; federal fund, $508; transportation, $4,497; building, $109,741; joint agreement, $1,481.40; new construction, $7,587; and teacher tuition reimbursement in the amount of $6,679.

Relief of overcrowded study halls and helping to bring about "a more relaxed atmosphere" at Madison High School, Richard Brown, principal, and Arthur Carter, assistant principal, told the Madison School Board at a meeting last week.

The administrators reported to the board that parents and two extra policemen are doing an excellent job in helping maintain a learning environment.

The board will meet Tuesday at 7 p.m. with the Bircal Four area couples divorced.

(Hamrick) from Frank Rogers Jr., both of Granite City. They were married March 12, 1941, in Wynn Ark., and separated in 1970. Mental cruelty was charged. Custody of one child was granted to the mother and the father was ordered to pay $150 per month child support and $50 per month alimony.

Patricia Smith of Granite City from Chester M. Smith of State Park Place. They were married Sept. 2, 1967, in St. Louis and separated Jan. 25, 1972. Desertion was charged. Custody of three children was granted to the mother and the court reserved ruling on the question of support.

Diane Anita Ross (Nicholls) from Michael Stephen Ross, both of Granite City. They were married April 16, 1970, in Stewart County, Tenn., and separated in October 1973. Mental cruelty was charged. Custody of one child was granted to the mother and the father was ordered to pay $20 per week child support.

Active role by Hagnauer as Gateway officer can aid regional coordination

Election of Nelson Hagnauer as vice-chairman of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council gives this area and county a strong voice in regional policy-setting discussions.

We hope and urge that he plays an active and constructive role during the relatively limited time that an individual is permitted to hold a high office in the Gateway Council.

Hagnauer, Granite City supervisor and a member and chairman of the Madison County Board, was installed as Gateway vice-chairman Thursday night at Belleville, St. Louis County Supervisor Lawrence K. Roos became Gateway chairman, succeeding the late Francis J. Foley, who was St. Clair County Board chairman.

Although Hagnauer's advancement to the second highest office is commendable and deserved, it should not give Quad-Cityans the impression that they are assured of direct representation on what is becoming an increasingly powerful level of regional government.

East St. Louis, for example, has a permanent place for its mayor on the Gateway Board. No other city or community in Illinois is assured of direct participation and representation.

Hagnauer is a Gateway member by virtue of his leadership of the Madison County Board. The past history of the county chairmanship has been that, once he is no longer board chairman, it might be 50 or 100 years before another Quad-Cityan holds the office.

The other local resident on the Gateway board, Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison, qualified by being elected vice-president of the Southwestern Council of Mayors, an organization covering a wide geographic area and one which regularly moves its members up and off the ladder of offices.

Under a proposed reorganization of Gateway to make it a full-fledged Council of Governments, the No. 2 Southwestern Council of Mayors office no longer would qualify for regional board participation.

Two other Quad-Cityans, John Bellocq of Madison and Henry D. Karandjef of Granite City, formerly served on the Gateway board at different times as president of the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission.

While the board membership structure gives this community no guarantee that it will have even one of the 15 voting positions, an oft-discussed change to the "one man, one vote" concept would leave Quad-Cityans in a weaker position, due to the population dominance of St. Louis City and County.

With this background in mind, it is a solid plus for the Quad-Cities and Madison County that one of its citizens and officials now holds the Gateway vice-chairmanship and presumably can succeed Roos as chairman in two years.

The timing is significant because, from all signs, the mid-1970s will be a crucial transition era for the bi-state regional body. It already has proposed a new agency, dealing with recreation, that would have so direct taxing and condemnation power on both sides of the Mississippi River.

And Chairman Roos made a plea Thursday night for support in Illinois and Missouri of the Council of Governments plan, which would lead to Gateway the broad operating and taxing powers of the Bi-State Development Agency. The new list of powers could include coordination of sewers, streets, highways, parks, recreation, air quality and law enforcement.

Eloquent presentations voiced at local

State authorities here for a public meeting Thursday afternoon on community college planning were impressed by the size, knowledge and interest of the gathering of citizens at the Venice Recreation Center.

The nearly two hours of discussion were preceded by two hours of give-and-take on the same subject at a luncheon with mayors, school officials and study groups held at the Granite City Army Installation.

Whether the visitors were equally impressed with the suggestions that were voiced is not as certain.

Many of the Quad-Cityans present made well-documented and eloquent explanations of why this community should be allowed to hold a referendum on creating a new college district to be known as Southwestern.

Because state law gives wide discretionary power to the Illinois Community College Board and Illinois Board of Higher Education, there are no additional steps that can be taken to make the local request prevail, it was brought out.

In the event that a new district is created, the state officers left no doubt that this community must either choose a district or they will make the selection for Quad-Cityans. Those attending Thursday made it clear that, if annexed, they prefer Belleville Area College rather than Lewis and Clark Community College at Godfrey.

Plans for new state corrections facilities have been eliminated

SPRINGFIELD — Plans to build separate multimillion-dollar reception and diagnostic centers, one for juveniles and one for adults, have been scrapped by the Illinois Department of Corrections.

Corrections Director Allyn R. Sleafs said that local opposition to one of the plans, a $6 million dollar adult facility at Tinley Park, was "taken into consideration" in making the decision not to proceed.

This change in approach was also the main reason for dropping plans to build a juvenile facility in Chicago on a site which had come under attack when it was revealed it was a former landfill dump site, so inaccessible a bridge would have to be built to it before construction of the facility could even start.

Don LeFevre, executive director of the state's capital development board, had raised questions about the site, which was acquired from a blind trust, and about changes in plans which cut in half the original facility and would double the original $8 million cost. Opponents also maintained the site's history as a landfill raised the possibility of dangerously explosive methane gas building up under any structure erected on the site.

Sleafs, who was appointed to the Corrections Department after the opposition to that site developed, said he was aware "there had been some concern over both the quality of the site and the way the land was acquired," but said the decision not to proceed there also arose from a reevaluation of the question of need.

Under the new program he is developing, a new male adult inmate will spend only a few days, rather than several weeks or even months, at the diagnostic facility while a rapid initial assessment team at the local institutional level. Evaluation will be an on-going operation, he said, and programs can be changed if necessary.

On the juvenile level, an experimental program is being undertaken in southwestern Illinois, Sleafs said, with Dr. Roland Wesley in charge of an integrated program which includes the department's youth camp at Pere Marquette, counseling programs and all other aspects of the juvenile system. The project is being worked out there, Sleafs said, because the area is close to major population centers in East St. Louis and Alton but remote enough for an experimental program to be tried. Since the program is underway only about three months, it is too early for evaluation, he said.

Another flag-raising

Amtrak offers brand-new approach to railroading

SPRINGFIELD — Hanging around the Amtrak depot can be fun these days. Four times daily since the first of October the new Amtrak Turbotrain has been gliding into town.

It halts at the depot, doors which open with a puff of compressed air to discharge and accept new passengers, and with a whirr the French-made turbine-powered train glides out of town.

Its whine is unbelievably quiet — much like a turboprop airplane without propellers. And muffled, of course.

Its appearance is as futuristic as its sound: More sleek and streamlined than cars and buses; if it has to be compared to something, what it looks like most is a modern subway train.

On board, the Turbotrain is functional and comfortable, but definitely not luxurious. A colorful indoor-outdoor carpet stretches from wall-to-wall, end-to-end. Bright orange airplane-style seats sit on the floor, they say.

They dip into a semi-reclining position by sliding the seat forward and have ash trays built into the arm rests. The seats are not reversible, so half the riders are always riding backwards. On the wall next to the seats are plastic, watertight waste containers — you can even discard a drink in there, they say.

Luggage racks are wire mesh, but lacking are coat hooks. If you've got a coat hanger, you're in business and can hook it through the mesh. Bright yellow curtains, not shades, keep out the sun. Large picture windows otherwise let the sun and scenery in.

Each car in the five-car train is divided. The power unit and control cab take up half the two end cars (one unit pushes, the other pulls), half the middle car is the on-board cafeteria, and each of the remaining cars has a glass sliding door dividing them.

When riding the train though, make sure you have your strong arm with you: those sliding glass doors and the identical ones at the ends of the cars and the steel sliding doors separating the cars — they are all murder to operate.

The glass doors do serve three purposes, however. One day they'll be used to split the train into smoking and non-smoking sections. An independent heating-air conditioning unit serves each half-car. And they serve to create a more spacious feeling about the train though the cars are lower and a bit narrower than conventional passenger cars.

Newer train riders may not even notice this, but the "old heads" have already complained about the washrooms. They serve both sexes. Gone are the men's and women's lounge and rest room.

There are three bars on the train, each located between two cars, manned by porters who serve the beverages to passengers while they remain in their seats. There are no stools, seats or even a place to stand around the bars.

More complaints may be heard about the food and wine arrangements for eating it. It looks and works like a cafeteria as opposed to a restaurant. All of it, even breakfasts, is prepared in advance, placed on styrofoam trays and wrapped in Saranwrap. It's warmed up prior to serving with a microwave oven. The food is tasty but the styrofoam trays curl and the food runs together, the rolls dry out and the wrapping is messy. A person can't order a simple hamburger or hotdog either over though they are packaged individually. The menu says cole slaw comes with it and that'll be a buck-and-a-half, please.

Past complaints about railroad passenger service have been critically and chronically criticized the personnel. Grumpy, unhelpful and lazy were the quarrels with the railroads. Not so with the new Turbotrain. Perhaps it's because Amtrak is still relatively young and perhaps it's because of the new era of turbine-powered trains Amtrak is entering, but the service is cordial, helpful, friendly. (I saw a conductor help a woman with her bags, carrying them the length of the platform at Alton; and, at Springfield while debarking I saw the engineer leave his control cab to chat with passengers.)

Old heads will also notice the greatly improved ride of the Turbotrain. The engineer says the ride is "nice," better than "anything" he has ever ridden. Unfortunately, he must do without air-conditioning, however.

Zooming along at 79 miles per hour — the maximum allowed by law and boosted just recently from 74 miles per hour — there is little engine noise even when sitting in the passenger section of the power car. The clackety-clack of the wheels still filters through though; even the improved suspension system is not enough to absorb the side-to-side jerking, swaying motion of the cars.

It's worth the ride, if only for the novelty of it. Cars and the adjacent highways and farmers in the fields all wave at the new train. (Fascination with the new train has already caused one accident, witnessed one crew member, wrapped in Saranwrap. It's with the Turbotrain, ran into another automobile broadside.)

But whatever you do, don't tell a crew member the Turbotrain looks like a bus. They don't like that.

Steel experts assail 'lack of realism' in some pollution rules

Steel industry experts sharply criticized the standards established under federal environmental and occupational safety and health programs at a meeting last week in Pittsburgh for the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Earl W. Mallick, vice-president-environmental control, United States Steel Corp., said that, in the case of air pollution control, "some of the requirements we are facing today make no sense at all."

He accused some agencies of "setting standards which cannot be attained, and then penalizing the company which, in the government's infinite wisdom, is not doing its best in an effort to meet an impossible standard."

This, he said, is irresponsible, because it tends to discourage control efforts rather than encourage them.

Mallick deplored "the fact that the steel industry receives little credit for its pollution control achievements."

With a few exceptions which will soon be corrected, he said, virtually all emissions from iron and steelmaking, hot forming and finishing are being controlled.

In certain areas, such as the coking process, many emissions are being controlled, but complete control must await development of new technology, he added.

"We recognize the need for standards of some type," Mallick continued, "but they should be related to both costs and benefits." He said that getting the last pound of dust escaping from a steelmaking shop is enormously expensive while the benefit to the environment is "relatively minimal."

Discussing water pollution control, William P. McShane, director-environmental control, Wheeling-Pittsburgh Steel Corp., said, "We are forced to hastily conceive and implement plans for environmental control in a political world whose first priority is to satisfy political needs, not the technical requirements."

"To compound the problem, the rules of the game keep changing."

"For over a half dozen years, industry has lived in a changing world of water pollution control legislation that was both confusing and conflicting. Every time we heard an automatic call for more regulation, it came as a response to regulatory failure."

McShane said AISI's Technical Committee on Environmental Quality Control cooperated with the Environmental Protection Agency in formulating "rigid but attainable interim standards" for wastewater discharges from steelmaking operations.

However, he continued, EPA was required to obtain a contractor's report on this subject.

The report, said McShane, "was complete with impractical, undemonstrated schemes of control technology, with equally unrealistic and ridiculous operating data for water quality control."

According to McShane, industry would long ago have ceased to be a water pollution problem "if the regulators had been able to agree on what they wished industry to do."

William M. Smith, director-environmental control, National Steel Corp., discussed the American Iron and Steel Institute's work with the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health to develop steel plant health and safety criteria.

NIOSH already has released 14 such criteria documents. They include criteria covering asbestos, heat stress, noise, carbon monoxide and working conditions for coke oven employees.

Smith said a significant portion of the information used by NIOSH to develop its coke oven criteria resulted from the work of a special AISI task force.

This group, involving several Institute committees, conducted considerable research, including evaluation of foreign coke oven emission technology and employee exposure conditions.

Smith labeled NIOSH's heat stress criteria unrealistic in light of data gathered by the Institute.

Spirit Lifter for the week

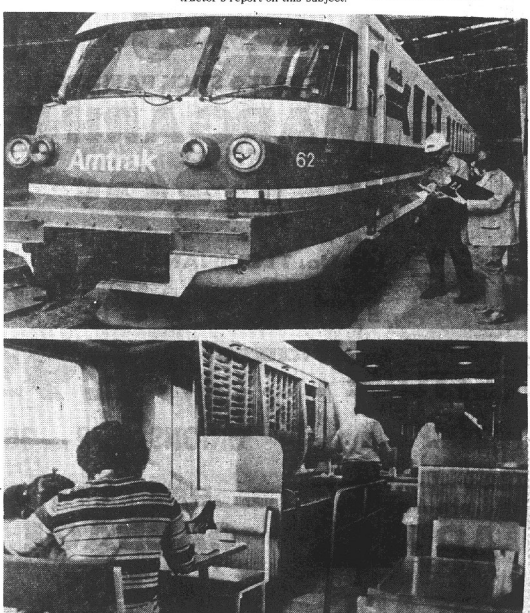

By RUTH STAFFORD
FEALE

There are certain characteristics that make a personality stand out from the crowd. Joy is one of them.

It's because joy acts as a lubricant or a medicine. It develops a relaxed flow of mind and action that helps a person do things well. And the greatest joy, the kind that produces the maximum effect, is spiritual in nature.

"Those things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full," John 15:11

SLEEK AND STREAMLINED. Please don't tell any of the Amtrak crew members their French-made new Turbotrain looks like a bus. They don't like it.

With a power car at each end, the Turbotrain is always ready to go in either direction. The dining portion of the train (bottom photo), looks and works like a cafeteria. The prepackaged meals are tasty, and are warmed for consumption by microwave oven.

Mass media casts women poorly, speaker says

Mrs. Sharon Gusewelle, a mass media instructor in the English department at Belleville Area College, addressed the Granite City Branch of the American Association of University Women at the First United Presbyterian Church Thursday evening.

Introduced by Mrs. Cynthia Hormell, the guest speaker defined "media" and discussed the subject "The Effect of Media on the Female."

She showed slides depicting advertisements in magazines with "glamorous" women using cleaning products in the home, having the effect of portraying a woman in the role of servant.

Mrs. Gusewelle said. Other slides of women posing with automobiles were interpreted as a "female getting her man."

The speaker said many men are cast in dramatic programs on television as doctors, lawyers and other professional types, but actresses usually get the part of a secretary.

When women become the main character in a show, frequently it is a comedy part with the woman acting as a bumbling secretary or housewife similar to roles played by Lucille Ball or Edith Butler.

A positive side of television is slowly emerging, Mrs. Gusewelle commented, with women taking prime positions as Betsy Bruce and Diane White are doing in newscasts, a fact which improves the image of women.

Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards, president, reviewed activities at a recent leadership conference in Belleville, based on the theme "Getting It All Together."

Members donated $20 for the Madison County Mental Health Association and Mrs. Edwards appointed Elsie Girard, Lilly Firner and Virginia Segar to complete arrangements for the organization's Christmas party on Dec. 13.

Members currently are selling Christmas napkins, with proceeds earmarked for the Scholarship Foundation fund. Refreshments were served to 26 members and guests.

Evening Guild hears minister

The Rev. John Burke, former associate director of CROP, project of the United Church of World Service, was the guest speaker last week at a meeting of the Evening Guild at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ.

After his talk, the minister showed film strips to illustrate accomplishments in the CROP program.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Alice Elledge, Mrs. Frieda Bennington and Mrs. Alice Bohannon to 27 members.

Guild members from St. John's Church in Collinsville and Concordia Lutheran Church will be guests at the Dec. 3 meeting, it was announced.

Plans were finalized for a Christmas party on Dec. 5 at Temple's Smorgasbord.

Mrs. Eureka Breckenridge, hostess for the evening, used fall colors in the table decorations and served refreshments during the social hour.

Coordination

Participation of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville of the Higher Education Coordinating Council of Metropolitan St. Louis was announced by the St. Louis Board of Trustees Thursday by President St. Louis, Rendiemien, SIUE.

The university is one of 11 higher education institutions within the council, which was organized to advance coordination of educational program offerings, to coordinate the community of needs and education trends, and present a unified voice to the community of Metropolitan St. Louis higher education in relationship with public and private agencies. In addition to colleges and universities, the membership includes representatives of school districts in St. Louis and St. Louis City and County.

Council projects in which SIUE has shared, Rendiemien said, include the following: a five-year degree program which enters around the Missouri at St. Louis, and current exploration of a joint master's degree program in cooperative doctoral programs with Washington University and Saint Louis University.

Rendiemien advised the trustees that the council hopes spring this academic year to begin a series of meetings to emphasize cooperative activities in undergraduate instruction, graduate studies, continuing education, learning resources and student services.

As one of the five largest universities in the St. Louis area, SIUE has a membership fee of $500 a year. Membership fees for higher education institutions which are members of the council include the following: Harris Teachers College, The Lindenwood Colleges, Grinnell College, St. Louis College, St. Louis Junior College, St. Louis College District, St. Louis University, St. Louis University of Missouri at St. Louis, Washington University, Graceland College and SIUE.

State funding

on cooperation with 11 colleges

The Illinois Board of Higher Education announced Thursday that it will provide a grant of $12,800 to the Metro East St. Louis Regional Council on Interinstitutional Cooperation for research in higher education.

The council, formed last year, is composed of 11 public and private colleges and universities in the metropolitan area, organized to foster closer educational institutions.

Dr. E. N. Rackham, president of Graceland College at Graceland, Mo., said at the regional council's forum, said a major organizational activity of the council is to conduct research on the resources and needs of member institutions and their communities to provide a foundation for program development.

Dr. Ralph W. Ruffner, senior vice president, planning and development at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, is executive director of the council.

Members of the council include: Belleville Area College, Graceland College, Grinnell College, Harris Teachers College, and James Clark Community College, McKendree College, St. Louis College District, St. Louis University, Principia College, St. Louis Junior College, St. Louis State University, St. Louis University, St. Louis College in East St. Louis and SIUE.

Funding for the grant to the council comes from the higher education class of the state's 1973 which allocated $350,000 for the statewide use in promoting such programs.

Patrolmen end college course

Three probationary officers

Three probationary police officers of the St. Louis Police Force graduated last night from the six-week course in Basic Law Enforcement at the St. Louis Police Academy. Chief Ronald Veizer said today.

Officers who successfully completed the 240-hour college-level training were John Apperson, Robert Krause and Philip Pomeroy. Pomeroy was named the best notebook classmate.

All three men ranked high in the class standings, Chief Veizer said.

Three other probationary officers, Michael Spanier, Craig Smith and John Wiedel, will start the mandatory instruction course in February.

Festival net cost to SIUE '72,16; concerts provided student jobs

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville spent $51,882 in operating expenses for the outdoor performing arts facility used by Mississippi River Festival, Inc., as the home of the 1972 festival, according to an unaudited report made Thursday to the SIUE Board of Trustees.

Revenue to be received by the university in return for use of the facility includes $40,000 due from MFR, Inc., under a contract signed earlier this year, and $1,859 in excess income from a May 1973 concert which was not part of the MFR series. The university has received $20,000 from MFR as a contractual payment. Dr. John S. Rendleman, SIUE president, said.

Operational expenses included $18,556 in student wages for ushers, gate attendants, marshals and supervisors, $13,185 for box office expense, $5,581 for an audio director, $2,000 for a tentmaster, $9,886 for labor and assistance to the tentmaster and $2,273 for an assistant concert manager. Food service provided by the university at the MFR concerts earned an estimated $3,326 over expenses, while a loss of $700 was reported in parking expenses.

Taking into account the operating expenses, the funds due, the excess income, the loss on parking and the profit on food, the net cost to SIUE from the 1973 River Festival concert series amounted to $7,216.

Firearm safety discussed

"Has your firearms registration card expired?" Granite City Police Officer Glenn Wright asked members of the Optimist Club at their noon meeting Thursday in the YMCA.

Officer Wright presented a program on firearm safety and when the question arose several Optimists found their cards needed renewing.

The club voted not to participate in the "Old Newsboy" sale this year, as there will be no newspapers available because of the newspaper shortage. Club members said they did not want to just "stand on corners with cans and beg money."

A contribution of $200 to the local United Way campaign was approved.

President David V. Fox announced the following members.

Mrs. Mary Miller, 90, dies

Nameoki board to hear report on sewer project

A report on discussions of the Quad City four-township sewage program during an EPA hearing in Carbondale last week will be presented to the Nameoki board at a regular meeting tonight by Louis E. Whitsell, Nameoki Township supervisor. County Board members and a member of the four-township sewer program committee.

Whitsell, who attended the Carbondale hearing with other representatives from this area, noted that applications for grants are in two phases, one for construction of interceptor lines and another for construction of collector sewers.

The four townships of the Quad City area—Granite City, Venice, Nameoki and Chouteau, are developing plans for construction of the collector lines and interceptors to serve the incorporated areas of Venice, Chouteau and Nameoki Townships.

The supervisor said EPA representatives plan to meet with members of the township group after hearings are completed on "regional" clarification of sewer projects.

Whitsell noted that the committee was informed that a local program has a priority of 376 for the interceptor project and 562 for the collector sewers. The town board also will hold a public hearing at 7 p.m. today at the township office to determine if $10,000 in revenue sharing funds should be transferred into a new account for fire hydrants that would be installed by the Long Lake Fire Department.

Carter heads cancer drive

Thad R. Carter, Alton attorney, has accepted the position of Crusade Chairman for the Madison County Unit of the American Cancer Society for next year. Mr. Harold E. Ruyke, board chairman for the unit, made the announcement at a recent meeting of the board of directors.

Carter will be responsible for obtaining leadership for the society's fund raising program in Madison County's 32 communities and surrounding areas.

Dr. George T. Wilkins Sr. of Granite City has been awarded a residential citation from the Illinois Association of School Administrators.

The award was made by the association president, Earl E. Patton, for "conspicuous service rendered to public education and to the profession of school administration."

Biochemistry clinic degree

A master of science degree in biochemistry and clinical biochemistry was authorized by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Thursday, subject to the approval of the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

The SIUE Board of Trustees, meeting at Carbondale, approved the interdisciplinary program, which will involve the departments of biochemistry in the School of Dental Medicine.

If approved by the BHE, it will be the first graduate program in SIUE crossing disciplinary and school lines.

Students will have a choice of a clinical option and an academic option.

The clinical option is for those planning a career in a clinical laboratory. It is designed to acquaint students with clinical work while they are still in an academic environment.

Students in this option will complete a research internship in an affiliated area hospital and write a research paper or thesis on work performed during the year.

The academic option is for students who wish to pursue more classical studies.

Dr. John S. Rendleman, SIUE president, said the new degree can be offered by utilizing existing courses and adding others in the applied area of clinical biochemistry.

Trustees were told the program would aid laboratory technicians already in mid-career by presenting an opportunity for upgrading of skill.

A 1970 survey indicated only 1,000 trained clinical laboratory supervisors were available in U. S. to staff more than 3,900 hospitals.

In 1971, there were only six programs in the U. S. to train biochemists at the doctoral level, six doctoral programs in clinical biochemistry and four master of science programs.

Each of these graduates only four or five students a year, not enough to meet manpower needs.

There are no state-supported graduate programs in clinical biochemistry in Illinois at this time.

Admission to the proposed master of science program would be limited to students with a bachelor degree in chemistry, biology or medical technology who have at least a 2.5 grade point average on a 4-point scale.

Ten current SIUE faculty members, all with doctoral degrees, would be involved in the instruction, along with two additional faculty to be recruited. The new faculty members would be specialists in clinical chemistry.

Cherry will work four days a week in the field and spend one day in Springfield.

A long-time Southern Illinois power, he has held a variety of state posts. He resigned as assistant transportation director in the office of State School Supt. Michael Bakalis to take the post with Howlett.

Cherry, who was the top personnel aide to the late Secretary of State Paul Powell, served as president of the county chairman from 1966 to 1970. He was re-elected to the post in 1972 and still is the Franklin County chairman. He also is serving as the state central committee chairman in the 21st Congressional District.

State energy utility turning off some of its lights

Illinois Power Co. said Friday it has ordered all thermostats in company buildings to be set at an average of five degrees lower than normal, as part of the gas and electric utility's effort to comply with the President's request for conservation of energy.

In addition, the company has turned out all outdoor lighting at all of its installations with the exception of security lighting.

Most building signs have been turned off, and there is no flood lighting except for security purposes. The company also will have no lighted Christmas decorations.

State urges car pools

Illinois Commerce Commission Chairman Marvin S. Lieberman wrote Friday to the 370 public utilities regulated by the commission asking them to adopt a fuel conservation policy for their employees and customers.

Lieberman said he was making the request "to give the fullest effect to the directions of Gov. Walker" relative to the energy crisis.

Lieberman asked the utilities to impose a 55-miles-per-hour speed limit on company vehicles.

—Urge all employees in winter to restrict their use of cars in driving family cars.

—Urge employees to form car pools or use public transportation instead of driving to and from work in cars carrying only one person.

—Describe in writing what steps the utility is taking both to help customers conserve energy and to conserve energy in the utility's own operation.

STAL TYPEWRITER
A portable electric typewriter valued at $100 was stolen in a burglary at the Delmar Shop, 2301 Delmar Ave., reported by Deloris Noe Thursday. Entry was gained by prying open a rear door and forcing a board attached to the door facing.

The meeting will be held in the Peck Building, Room 604, beginning at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

The new organization is a chapter of the Illinois Audio Visual Association. A business meeting will be held to consider a slate of officers, further plans of the group and committee assignments.

Nelson said the program will feature a discussion of new trends and developments in instructional television. A demonstration of the latest television equipment will be presented.

"Any teacher interested in improving teaching strategies is invited to attend," Nelson said.

A faculty member of the instruction technology department of the SIUE School of Education, Nelson is director of the Experimental Learning Center (ELC) which is in the developmental stages at SIUE.

The center will be equipped with a four-choice, push button response system in closed junction with closed circuit television, a slide program and printed handouts.

Nelson said the ELC is a research project which will be concerned with problems in programmed instruction and learning theory, committed to individualization and small group instruction. He said the project will be in operation as soon as space is found for establishment of the center.

Jewelry, shotgun stolen from home

Burglars entered the home of Walter Finke, 2555 Benton St., ransacked the downstairs rooms and stole a quantity of men's and women's jewelry and an automatic shotgun and case.

Finke advised police at 9 p.m. Thursday the intruders placed masking tape around glass in a rear door before breaking the glass pane to gain entry into the house.

Cherry joins Howlett staff

The former president of the Illinois Democratic Chairman's Association has been hired by Secretary of State Michael Howlett.

Ben Cherry of Zeigler has started work as a $15,500-a-month supervisor in Southern Illinois. It's a newly created position in the auto dealer's section similar to one which Audrey Peak of Winchester was recently appointed to. Cherry will work four days a week in the field and spend one day in Springfield.
